

HONORING THE INDEPENDENT REDISTRICTING COMMISSION

WHEREAS, in 2016, Berkeley voters approved Measure W1, which established an Independent Redistricting Commission (IRC), giving the power to determine Council district lines from politicians to the people; and

WHEREAS, dozens of community members applied to join the IRC, with 13 people randomly selected to serve on the commission along with 13 alternates, who together spent 32 meetings and many more subcommittee meetings thoroughly analyzing data and public input in creating proposed maps; and

WHEREAS, the IRC's commitment to serving the community, listening to every public comment, written comment, and taking the community's needs into consideration resulted in the approval of a map that received universal praise and support, a remarkable achievement after decades of divisive decisions through previous redistricting processes; and

WHEREAS, despite being the first ever cohort, the IRC flawlessly navigated the complexities of redistricting, setting the standard for future decennial redistricting processes.

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that I, Jesse Arreguin, Mayor of the City of Berkeley, do hereby thank and congratulate

SIMELIA ROGERS

For their selfless service to the Berkeley community and excellent work in developing a Council district map that is reflective of Berkeley's demographics, neighborhoods, and values.

Jesse Arreguin
Mayor

May 24, 2022

HONORING THE INDEPENDENT REDISTRICTING COMMISSION

WHEREAS, in 2016, Berkeley voters approved Measure W1, which established an Independent Redistricting Commission (IRC), giving the power to determine Council district lines from politicians to the people; and

WHEREAS, dozens of community members applied to join the IRC, with 13 people randomly selected to serve on the commission along with 13 alternates, who together spent 32 meetings and many more subcommittee meetings thoroughly analyzing data and public input in creating proposed maps; and

WHEREAS, the IRC's commitment to serving the community, listening to every public comment, written comment, and taking the community's needs into consideration resulted in the approval of a map that received universal praise and support, a remarkable achievement after decades of divisive decisions through previous redistricting processes; and

WHEREAS, despite being the first ever cohort, the IRC flawlessly navigated the complexities of redistricting, setting the standard for future decennial redistricting processes.

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that I, Jesse Arreguin, Mayor of the City of Berkeley, do hereby thank and congratulate

JOSE LOPEZ

For their selfless service to the Berkeley community and excellent work in developing a Council district map that is reflective of Berkeley's demographics, neighborhoods, and values.

Jesse Arreguin
Mayor

May 24, 2022

HONORING THE INDEPENDENT REDISTRICTING COMMISSION

WHEREAS, in 2016, Berkeley voters approved Measure W1, which established an Independent Redistricting Commission (IRC), giving the power to determine Council district lines from politicians to the people; and

WHEREAS, dozens of community members applied to join the IRC, with 13 people randomly selected to serve on the commission along with 13 alternates, who together spent 32 meetings and many more subcommittee meetings thoroughly analyzing data and public input in creating proposed maps; and

WHEREAS, the IRC's commitment to serving the community, listening to every public comment, written comment, and taking the community's needs into consideration resulted in the approval of a map that received universal praise and support, a remarkable achievement after decades of divisive decisions through previous redistricting processes; and

WHEREAS, despite being the first ever cohort, the IRC flawlessly navigated the complexities of redistricting, setting the standard for future decennial redistricting processes.

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that I, Jesse Arreguin, Mayor of the City of Berkeley, do hereby thank and congratulate

RANA CHO

For their selfless service to the Berkeley community and excellent work in developing a Council district map that is reflective of Berkeley's demographics, neighborhoods, and values.

Jesse Arreguin
Mayor

May 24, 2022

HONORING THE INDEPENDENT REDISTRICTING COMMISSION

WHEREAS, in 2016, Berkeley voters approved Measure W1, which established an Independent Redistricting Commission (IRC), giving the power to determine Council district lines from politicians to the people; and

WHEREAS, dozens of community members applied to join the IRC, with 13 people randomly selected to serve on the commission along with 13 alternates, who together spent 32 meetings and many more subcommittee meetings thoroughly analyzing data and public input in creating proposed maps; and

WHEREAS, the IRC's commitment to serving the community, listening to every public comment, written comment, and taking the community's needs into consideration resulted in the approval of a map that received universal praise and support, a remarkable achievement after decades of divisive decisions through previous redistricting processes; and

WHEREAS, despite being the first ever cohort, the IRC flawlessly navigated the complexities of redistricting, setting the standard for future decennial redistricting processes.

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that I, Jesse Arreguin, Mayor of the City of Berkeley, do hereby thank and congratulate

ANDREW FOX

For their selfless service to the Berkeley community and excellent work in developing a Council district map that is reflective of Berkeley's demographics, neighborhoods, and values.

Jesse Arreguin
Mayor

May 24, 2022

HONORING THE INDEPENDENT REDISTRICTING COMMISSION

WHEREAS, in 2016, Berkeley voters approved Measure W1, which established an Independent Redistricting Commission (IRC), giving the power to determine Council district lines from politicians to the people; and

WHEREAS, dozens of community members applied to join the IRC, with 13 people randomly selected to serve on the commission along with 13 alternates, who together spent 32 meetings and many more subcommittee meetings thoroughly analyzing data and public input in creating proposed maps; and

WHEREAS, the IRC's commitment to serving the community, listening to every public comment, written comment, and taking the community's needs into consideration resulted in the approval of a map that received universal praise and support, a remarkable achievement after decades of divisive decisions through previous redistricting processes; and

WHEREAS, despite being the first ever cohort, the IRC flawlessly navigated the complexities of redistricting, setting the standard for future decennial redistricting processes.

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that I, Jesse Arreguin, Mayor of the City of Berkeley, do hereby thank and congratulate

SAMUEL CALDERWOOD TAPLIN

For their selfless service to the Berkeley community and excellent work in developing a Council district map that is reflective of Berkeley's demographics, neighborhoods, and values.

Jesse Arreguin
Mayor

May 24, 2022

HONORING THE INDEPENDENT REDISTRICTING COMMISSION

WHEREAS, in 2016, Berkeley voters approved Measure W1, which established an Independent Redistricting Commission (IRC), giving the power to determine Council district lines from politicians to the people; and

WHEREAS, dozens of community members applied to join the IRC, with 13 people randomly selected to serve on the commission along with 13 alternates, who together spent 32 meetings and many more subcommittee meetings thoroughly analyzing data and public input in creating proposed maps; and

WHEREAS, the IRC's commitment to serving the community, listening to every public comment, written comment, and taking the community's needs into consideration resulted in the approval of a map that received universal praise and support, a remarkable achievement after decades of divisive decisions through previous redistricting processes; and

WHEREAS, despite being the first ever cohort, the IRC flawlessly navigated the complexities of redistricting, setting the standard for future decennial redistricting processes.

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that I, Jesse Arreguin, Mayor of the City of Berkeley, do hereby thank and congratulate

ELISABETH WATSON

For their selfless service to the Berkeley community and excellent work in developing a Council district map that is reflective of Berkeley's demographics, neighborhoods, and values.

Jesse Arreguin
Mayor

May 24, 2022

HONORING THE INDEPENDENT REDISTRICTING COMMISSION

WHEREAS, in 2016, Berkeley voters approved Measure W1, which established an Independent Redistricting Commission (IRC), giving the power to determine Council district lines from politicians to the people; and

WHEREAS, dozens of community members applied to join the IRC, with 13 people randomly selected to serve on the commission along with 13 alternates, who together spent 32 meetings and many more subcommittee meetings thoroughly analyzing data and public input in creating proposed maps; and

WHEREAS, the IRC's commitment to serving the community, listening to every public comment, written comment, and taking the community's needs into consideration resulted in the approval of a map that received universal praise and support, a remarkable achievement after decades of divisive decisions through previous redistricting processes; and

WHEREAS, despite being the first ever cohort, the IRC flawlessly navigated the complexities of redistricting, setting the standard for future decennial redistricting processes.

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that I, Jesse Arreguin, Mayor of the City of Berkeley, do hereby thank and congratulate

WINSTON DAVID RHODES

For their selfless service to the Berkeley community and excellent work in developing a Council district map that is reflective of Berkeley's demographics, neighborhoods, and values.

Jesse Arreguin
Mayor

May 24, 2022

HONORING THE INDEPENDENT REDISTRICTING COMMISSION

WHEREAS, in 2016, Berkeley voters approved Measure W1, which established an Independent Redistricting Commission (IRC), giving the power to determine Council district lines from politicians to the people; and

WHEREAS, dozens of community members applied to join the IRC, with 13 people randomly selected to serve on the commission along with 13 alternates, who together spent 32 meetings and many more subcommittee meetings thoroughly analyzing data and public input in creating proposed maps; and

WHEREAS, the IRC's commitment to serving the community, listening to every public comment, written comment, and taking the community's needs into consideration resulted in the approval of a map that received universal praise and support, a remarkable achievement after decades of divisive decisions through previous redistricting processes; and

WHEREAS, despite being the first ever cohort, the IRC flawlessly navigated the complexities of redistricting, setting the standard for future decennial redistricting processes.

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that I, Jesse Arreguin, Mayor of the City of Berkeley, do hereby thank and congratulate

CURTIS WILLIAM HANSON

For their selfless service to the Berkeley community and excellent work in developing a Council district map that is reflective of Berkeley's demographics, neighborhoods, and values.

Jesse Arreguin
Mayor

May 24, 2022

HONORING THE INDEPENDENT REDISTRICTING COMMISSION

WHEREAS, in 2016, Berkeley voters approved Measure W1, which established an Independent Redistricting Commission (IRC), giving the power to determine Council district lines from politicians to the people; and

WHEREAS, dozens of community members applied to join the IRC, with 13 people randomly selected to serve on the commission along with 13 alternates, who together spent 32 meetings and many more subcommittee meetings thoroughly analyzing data and public input in creating proposed maps; and

WHEREAS, the IRC's commitment to serving the community, listening to every public comment, written comment, and taking the community's needs into consideration resulted in the approval of a map that received universal praise and support, a remarkable achievement after decades of divisive decisions through previous redistricting processes; and

WHEREAS, despite being the first ever cohort, the IRC flawlessly navigated the complexities of redistricting, setting the standard for future decennial redistricting processes.

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that I, Jesse Arreguin, Mayor of the City of Berkeley, do hereby thank and congratulate

LISA M. TRAN

For their selfless service to the Berkeley community and excellent work in developing a Council district map that is reflective of Berkeley's demographics, neighborhoods, and values.

Jesse Arreguin
Mayor

May 24, 2022

HONORING THE INDEPENDENT REDISTRICTING COMMISSION

WHEREAS, in 2016, Berkeley voters approved Measure W1, which established an Independent Redistricting Commission (IRC), giving the power to determine Council district lines from politicians to the people; and

WHEREAS, dozens of community members applied to join the IRC, with 13 people randomly selected to serve on the commission along with 13 alternates, who together spent 32 meetings and many more subcommittee meetings thoroughly analyzing data and public input in creating proposed maps; and

WHEREAS, the IRC's commitment to serving the community, listening to every public comment, written comment, and taking the community's needs into consideration resulted in the approval of a map that received universal praise and support, a remarkable achievement after decades of divisive decisions through previous redistricting processes; and

WHEREAS, despite being the first ever cohort, the IRC flawlessly navigated the complexities of redistricting, setting the standard for future decennial redistricting processes.

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that I, Jesse Arreguin, Mayor of the City of Berkeley, do hereby thank and congratulate

JESSE ALDOUS SESSELL

For their selfless service to the Berkeley community and excellent work in developing a Council district map that is reflective of Berkeley's demographics, neighborhoods, and values.

Jesse Arreguin
Mayor

May 24, 2022

HONORING THE INDEPENDENT REDISTRICTING COMMISSION

WHEREAS, in 2016, Berkeley voters approved Measure W1, which established an Independent Redistricting Commission (IRC), giving the power to determine Council district lines from politicians to the people; and

WHEREAS, dozens of community members applied to join the IRC, with 13 people randomly selected to serve on the commission along with 13 alternates, who together spent 32 meetings and many more subcommittee meetings thoroughly analyzing data and public input in creating proposed maps; and

WHEREAS, the IRC's commitment to serving the community, listening to every public comment, written comment, and taking the community's needs into consideration resulted in the approval of a map that received universal praise and support, a remarkable achievement after decades of divisive decisions through previous redistricting processes; and

WHEREAS, despite being the first ever cohort, the IRC flawlessly navigated the complexities of redistricting, setting the standard for future decennial redistricting processes.

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that I, Jesse Arreguin, Mayor of the City of Berkeley, do hereby thank and congratulate

TERRY NICOL

For their selfless service to the Berkeley community and excellent work in developing a Council district map that is reflective of Berkeley's demographics, neighborhoods, and values.

Jesse Arreguin
Mayor

May 24, 2022

HONORING THE INDEPENDENT REDISTRICTING COMMISSION

WHEREAS, in 2016, Berkeley voters approved Measure W1, which established an Independent Redistricting Commission (IRC), giving the power to determine Council district lines from politicians to the people; and

WHEREAS, dozens of community members applied to join the IRC, with 13 people randomly selected to serve on the commission along with 13 alternates, who together spent 32 meetings and many more subcommittee meetings thoroughly analyzing data and public input in creating proposed maps; and

WHEREAS, the IRC's commitment to serving the community, listening to every public comment, written comment, and taking the community's needs into consideration resulted in the approval of a map that received universal praise and support, a remarkable achievement after decades of divisive decisions through previous redistricting processes; and

WHEREAS, despite being the first ever cohort, the IRC flawlessly navigated the complexities of redistricting, setting the standard for future decennial redistricting processes.

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that I, Jesse Arreguin, Mayor of the City of Berkeley, do hereby thank and congratulate

M. GUADALUPE GALLEGOS-DIAZ

For their selfless service to the Berkeley community and excellent work in developing a Council district map that is reflective of Berkeley's demographics, neighborhoods, and values.

Jesse Arreguin
Mayor

May 24, 2022

HONORING THE INDEPENDENT REDISTRICTING COMMISSION

WHEREAS, in 2016, Berkeley voters approved Measure W1, which established an Independent Redistricting Commission (IRC), giving the power to determine Council district lines from politicians to the people; and

WHEREAS, dozens of community members applied to join the IRC, with 13 people randomly selected to serve on the commission along with 13 alternates, who together spent 32 meetings and many more subcommittee meetings thoroughly analyzing data and public input in creating proposed maps; and

WHEREAS, the IRC's commitment to serving the community, listening to every public comment, written comment, and taking the community's needs into consideration resulted in the approval of a map that received universal praise and support, a remarkable achievement after decades of divisive decisions through previous redistricting processes; and

WHEREAS, despite being the first ever cohort, the IRC flawlessly navigated the complexities of redistricting, setting the standard for future decennial redistricting processes.

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that I, Jesse Arreguin, Mayor of the City of Berkeley, do hereby thank and congratulate

SHERRY SMITH

For their selfless service to the Berkeley community and excellent work in developing a Council district map that is reflective of Berkeley's demographics, neighborhoods, and values.

Jesse Arreguin
Mayor

May 24, 2022

HONORING THE INDEPENDENT REDISTRICTING COMMISSION

WHEREAS, in 2016, Berkeley voters approved Measure W1, which established an Independent Redistricting Commission (IRC), giving the power to determine Council district lines from politicians to the people; and

WHEREAS, dozens of community members applied to join the IRC, with 13 people randomly selected to serve on the commission along with 13 alternates, who together spent 32 meetings and many more subcommittee meetings thoroughly analyzing data and public input in creating proposed maps; and

WHEREAS, the IRC's commitment to serving the community, listening to every public comment, written comment, and taking the community's needs into consideration resulted in the approval of a map that received universal praise and support, a remarkable achievement after decades of divisive decisions through previous redistricting processes; and

WHEREAS, despite being the first ever cohort, the IRC flawlessly navigated the complexities of redistricting, setting the standard for future decennial redistricting processes.

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that I, Jesse Arreguin, Mayor of the City of Berkeley, do hereby thank and congratulate

DELORES COOPER

For their selfless service to the Berkeley community and excellent work in developing a Council district map that is reflective of Berkeley's demographics, neighborhoods, and values.

Jesse Arreguin
Mayor

May 24, 2022

HONORING THE INDEPENDENT REDISTRICTING COMMISSION

WHEREAS, in 2016, Berkeley voters approved Measure W1, which established an Independent Redistricting Commission (IRC), giving the power to determine Council district lines from politicians to the people; and

WHEREAS, dozens of community members applied to join the IRC, with 13 people randomly selected to serve on the commission along with 13 alternates, who together spent 32 meetings and many more subcommittee meetings thoroughly analyzing data and public input in creating proposed maps; and

WHEREAS, the IRC's commitment to serving the community, listening to every public comment, written comment, and taking the community's needs into consideration resulted in the approval of a map that received universal praise and support, a remarkable achievement after decades of divisive decisions through previous redistricting processes; and

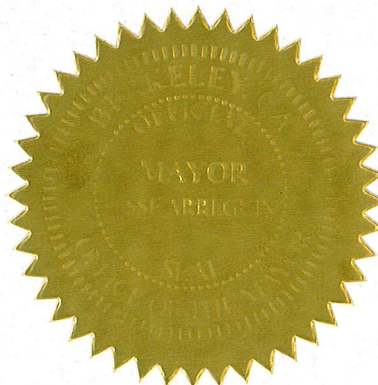

WHEREAS, despite being the first ever cohort, the IRC flawlessly navigated the complexities of redistricting, setting the standard for future decennial redistricting processes.

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that I, Jesse Arreguin, Mayor of the City of Berkeley, do hereby thank and congratulate

CARLY MICHELE ALEJOS

For their selfless service to the Berkeley community and excellent work in developing a Council district map that is reflective of Berkeley's demographics, neighborhoods, and values.

Jesse Arreguin
Mayor

May 24, 2022

HONORING THE INDEPENDENT REDISTRICTING COMMISSION

WHEREAS, in 2016, Berkeley voters approved Measure W1, which established an Independent Redistricting Commission (IRC), giving the power to determine Council district lines from politicians to the people; and

WHEREAS, dozens of community members applied to join the IRC, with 13 people randomly selected to serve on the commission along with 13 alternates, who together spent 32 meetings and many more subcommittee meetings thoroughly analyzing data and public input in creating proposed maps; and

WHEREAS, the IRC's commitment to serving the community, listening to every public comment, written comment, and taking the community's needs into consideration resulted in the approval of a map that received universal praise and support, a remarkable achievement after decades of divisive decisions through previous redistricting processes; and

WHEREAS, despite being the first ever cohort, the IRC flawlessly navigated the complexities of redistricting, setting the standard for future decennial redistricting processes.

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that I, Jesse Arreguin, Mayor of the City of Berkeley, do hereby thank and congratulate

RONALD K.H. CHOY

For their selfless service to the Berkeley community and excellent work in developing a Council district map that is reflective of Berkeley's demographics, neighborhoods, and values.

Jesse Arreguin
Mayor

May 24, 2022